

Prayers for Mission

Help me to journey
beyond the familiar
and into the unknown.
Give me the faith
to leave old ways
and break fresh ground
with You.

Christ of the mysteries,
I trust You to be stronger than each storm within me.
I will trust in the darkness
and know that my times, even now, are in Your hand.
Tune my spirit
to the music of heaven,
and somehow, make my
obedience count for You.

— Attributed to St Brendan

Lord, help me today like Edward Kimball, to love and serve someone who seems unlikely to ever become a Christian. Help me to walk quietly and consistently in
'peace and uprightness', standing in awe, teaching truth, and giving guidance. I will sow seeds where I can, when I can, trusting you to make of my prayers a harvest.

— Lectio365, 27th Aug 2025

Prayers for Mission

Help me to journey
beyond the familiar
and into the unknown.
Give me the faith
to leave old ways
and break fresh ground
with You.

Christ of the mysteries,
I trust You to be stronger
than each storm within me.
I will trust in the darkness
and know that my times,
even now, are in Your hand.
Tune my spirit
to the music of heaven,
and somehow, make my
obedience count for You.

— Attributed to St Brendan

Lord, help me today like Edward Kimball, to love and serve
someone who seems unlikely to
ever become a Christian. Help me
to walk quietly and consistently in
'peace and uprightness', standing
in awe, teaching truth, and giving guidance. I will sow seeds where I can, when I can, trusting you to make of my prayers a harvest.

— Lectio365, 27th Aug 2025

Prayers for Mission

Help me to journey
beyond the familiar
and into the unknown.
Give me the faith
to leave old ways
and break fresh ground
with You.

Christ of the mysteries,
I trust You to be stronger
than each storm within me.
I will trust in the darkness
and know that my times,
even now, are in Your hand.
Tune my spirit
to the music of heaven,
and somehow, make my
obedience count for You.

— Attributed to St Brendan

Lord, help me today like Edward Kimball, to love and serve
someone who seems unlikely to
ever become a Christian. Help me
to walk quietly and consistently in
'peace and uprightness', standing
in awe, teaching truth, and giving guidance. I will sow seeds where I can, when I can, trusting you to make of my prayers a harvest.

— Lectio365, 27th Aug 2025

Prayers for Mission

Help me to journey
beyond the familiar
and into the unknown.
Give me the faith
to leave old ways
and break fresh ground
with You.

Christ of the mysteries,
I trust You to be stronger
than each storm within me.
I will trust in the darkness
and know that my times,
even now, are in Your hand.
Tune my spirit
to the music of heaven,
and somehow, make my
obedience count for You.

— Attributed to St Brendan

Lord, help me today like Edward Kimball, to love and serve
someone who seems unlikely to
ever become a Christian. Help me
to walk quietly and consistently in
'peace and uprightness', standing
in awe, teaching truth, and giving guidance. I will sow seeds where I can, when I can, trusting you to make of my prayers a harvest.

— Lectio365, 27th Aug 2025

Risk, faithfulness and legacy...

Edward Kimball was a Sunday School teacher in the 1880s, who made it his mission to care for the most troubled boy in his class. "I have met few friends whose minds were spiritually darker," he later recalled, "who seemed more unlikely ever to become a Christian." But through Kimball's consistent kindness that boy did eventually become a Christian. His name was D. L. Moody and he grew up to become one of America's greatest evangelists, leading tens of thousands of people to Jesus. Moody discipled a man called F. B. Meyer, who helped spark the Welsh Revival of 1904 and he in turn discipled a fledgling evangelist called J. Wilber Chapman. Chapman discipled a professional baseball player called Billy Sunday who started a prayer meeting for businessmen in North Carolina. These businessmen invited an evangelist called Mordecai Ham to speak at a citywide gathering in Charlotte, NC and, during one of these meetings, a 15 year-old surrendered his life to the Lord. That boy went on to preach the gospel to more people, live and in-person, than anyone else in history, leading 3.2 million people to Christ. His name, of course, was Billy Graham.

Risk, faithfulness and legacy...

Edward Kimball was a Sunday School teacher in the 1880s, who made it his mission to care for the most troubled boy in his class. "I have met few friends whose minds were spiritually darker," he later recalled, "who seemed more unlikely ever to become a Christian." But through Kimball's consistent kindness that boy did eventually become a Christian. His name was D. L. Moody and he grew up to become one of America's greatest evangelists, leading tens of thousands of people to Jesus. Moody discipled a man called F. B. Meyer, who helped spark the Welsh Revival of 1904 and he in turn discipled a fledgling evangelist called J. Wilber Chapman. Chapman discipled a professional baseball player called Billy Sunday who started a prayer meeting for businessmen in North Carolina. These businessmen invited an evangelist called Mordecai Ham to speak at a citywide gathering in Charlotte, NC and, during one of these meetings, a 15 year-old surrendered his life to the Lord. That boy went on to preach the gospel to more people, live and in-person, than anyone else in history, leading 3.2 million people to Christ. His name, of course, was Billy Graham.

Risk, faithfulness and legacy...

Edward Kimball was a Sunday School teacher in the 1880s, who made it his mission to care for the most troubled boy in his class. "I have met few friends whose minds were spiritually darker," he later recalled, "who seemed more unlikely ever to become a Christian." But through Kimball's consistent kindness that boy did eventually become a Christian. His name was D. L. Moody and he grew up to become one of America's greatest evangelists, leading tens of thousands of people to Jesus. Moody discipled a man called F. B. Meyer, who helped spark the Welsh Revival of 1904 and he in turn discipled a fledgling evangelist called J. Wilber Chapman. Chapman discipled a professional baseball player called Billy Sunday who started a prayer meeting for businessmen in North Carolina. These businessmen invited an evangelist called Mordecai Ham to speak at a citywide gathering in Charlotte, NC and, during one of these meetings, a 15 year-old surrendered his life to the Lord. That boy went on to preach the gospel to more people, live and in-person, than anyone else in history, leading 3.2 million people to Christ. His name, of course, was Billy Graham.

Risk, faithfulness and legacy...

Edward Kimball was a Sunday School teacher in the 1880s, who made it his mission to care for the most troubled boy in his class. "I have met few friends whose minds were spiritually darker," he later recalled, "who seemed more unlikely ever to become a Christian." But through Kimball's consistent kindness that boy did eventually become a Christian. His name was D. L. Moody and he grew up to become one of America's greatest evangelists, leading tens of thousands of people to Jesus. Moody discipled a man called F. B. Meyer, who helped spark the Welsh Revival of 1904 and he in turn discipled a fledgling evangelist called J. Wilber Chapman. Chapman discipled a professional baseball player called Billy Sunday who started a prayer meeting for businessmen in North Carolina. These businessmen invited an evangelist called Mordecai Ham to speak at a citywide gathering in Charlotte, NC and, during one of these meetings, a 15 year-old surrendered his life to the Lord. That boy went on to preach the gospel to more people, live and in-person, than anyone else in history, leading 3.2 million people to Christ. His name, of course, was Billy Graham.